Spencer,

I'm confused upon looking at the receipts for Rep. Thompson's trip. IF the $548.18 is hotel, the $412.32 is for mileage, parking, food, and taxis, where is the $500 for airfare reflected? I don't see how this adds up given the receipts -- can you assist me in sorting through this?

Sincerely,
Heather Blessing

Hi, Heather.

Attached please find two documents. The first is Representative Thompson's documentation for his trip to Santa Barbara. The second is Representative Young's.

Each was reimbursed $500 for airfare and two nights' hotel ($548.18).

Representative Thompson was also reimbursed $412.32 for additional travel costs.

Spencer,

Also, with regards to Rep. Young's receipts, I don't see an invoice for the hotel. Also, the airfare indicates that he purchased two tickets. Did you only reimburse him for the cost of one? Who was the other ticket for? I thought the reimbursement was only for actual costs incurred.

Sorry for all the questions, but it is in the interest of having proper documentation for our members' financial disclosure forms.

Bob, will you please work with Rep. Young to get copies of his records on this ASAP?

Sincerely,
Heather Blessing

Hi Spencer,

We reimbursed Rep. Young for two nights at the Four Seasons, as well as up 500 for travel as per our Academy policy.

Rep. Young submitted a hard copy for his hotel receipt, and a hard copy of the reimbursement form, which I sent over to Finance. Could you please check with Genneya to see if they can provide you with the hard copy request?

I have his flight in email form below, but I do not have an electronic or hard copy of his final hotel receipt.

Let me know if you need anything else.

Thanks for your patience!

Kati

Special note: The airline reserves the right to deny boarding to passengers that do not check-in or arrive at the departure gate in adequate time. Please check with the airline for times. Also, certain cities vary for check-in times as well. Should the airline deny boarding, in such a case, no compensation will be awarded either by the airline or OneTravel.

Airline Phone Numbers

It is for this reason we advise you to make sure that you check-in and board your flight at the corresponding airline's terminal. For example - The flight number on your itinerary may indicate a United Airlines flight number but in fact this flight may be "Operated by Lufthansa" in which case you are required to check-in at the Lufthansa ticket counter and board at the corresponding Lufthansa gate.

This means your connection airport may require a transit Visa for the change of planes in that country. It is your responsibility to review your itinerary carefully for such airport changes and other flight details.

In instances like these, OneTravel will bear the cost up to but not to exceed $25.00. You reserve any right to not purchase this ticket, and your reservation will be cancelled without any billing your credit card.
- When the reservation information remains the same the ticket will be issued. At the time of ticketing you are bound by the rules, regulations and restrictions of the purchased ticket(s). Your credit card will be billed and is non-refundable.

- Most airlines require electronic tickets. In some cases electronic tickets cannot be issued per the reservation or airline; at this time a paper ticket will be issued and a shipping fee will be charged.
- Changes: All tickets are non refundable and non changeable. Some tickets where Changes may be permitted are subject to penalties and fare differential based on whether the change will be for dates and/or routing. In order to determine the total applicable fees, you must provide us with new dates and/or routing. There may be fare differential as well as Airlines' and our fees that apply in order to process changes to your itinerary. For assistance you may contact us at our 24/7 toll free call center- 1 866 883 0908. We do not guarantee final processing of any changes as they are subject to many factors beyond our control such as fare and seat availability and other factors. Dear Spencer,

Thank you so very much! Do you have a copy of the agenda from that trip? I don't think this will make the "national conference" exception, but I like to check just to be sure so if our members don't have to disclose it, they don't.

Hi Spencer,

We reimbursed Rep. Young for two nights at the Four Seasons, as well as up 500 for travel as per our Academy policy.

Rep. Young submitted a hard copy for his hotel receipt, and a hard copy of the reimbursement form, which I sent over to Finance. Could you please check with Genneya to see if they can provide you with the hard copy request?

I have his flight in email form below, but I do not have an electronic or hard copy of his final hotel receipt.

Let me know if you need anything else.

Thanks for your patience!

Spencer,

Also, with regards to Rep. Young's receipts, I don't see an invoice for the hotel. Also, the airfare indicates that he purchased two tickets. Did you only reimburse him for the cost of one? Who was the other ticket for? I thought the reimbursement was only for actual costs incurred.

Sorry for all the questions, but it is in the interest of having proper documentation for our members' financial disclosure forms.

Bob, will you please work with Rep. Young to get copies of his records on this ASAP?

Representative Duffey,

Uecker, Duffey Jointly Announce Proposal with Ohio Chamber of Commerce to Improve Fairness of State Agency Rulemaking

Legislation Lauded as Helping Ohio Small Businesses;

Continues Gov. Kasich's Common Sense Approach to Regulation

COLUMBUS – State Senator Joe Uecker (R-Miami Township), chairman, and State Representative Mike Duffey (R-Worthington), vice chairman, of the Joint Committee on Agency Rule Review (JCARR) have formally introduced legislation in their respective chambers (SB 303 and HB 503) to reform Ohio's state agency rulemaking to ensure rules are filed timely and in a fair manner. The legislation is also co-sponsored by former JCARR Chairman, Sen. Frank LaRose (R-Copley Township) and current JCARR member, Rep. Cheryl Grossman (R-Grove City), and more than a dozen other legislators.

The bill is supported by the Ohio Chamber of Commerce's Small Business Council, which consists of small businesses in Ohio with between 1-400 employees.

"Whether you are a small business in Ohio or simply a citizen dealing with regulation, I think everyone can agree we should have standards for notifying the public, making sure rules are consistent with state law and that there is an oversight process that is public," said Uecker. "This bill is a step toward making the rule process fair for everyone, and especially small businesses."

"For whatever reason, state agencies occasionally publish 'policies' that put regulations on Ohioans, but which have not gone through formal rulemaking as required by state law," said Duffey. "That means no public hearings, no oversight by the legislature and no opportunity for the public to comment. This legislation will fix that and ensure a fair hearing for all affected parties."

The bill was developed in coordination with the Ohio Legislative Service Commission and continual feedback from the Ohio Chamber of Commerce's Small Business Council for the past six months.

"Senate Bill 303 and House Bill 503 are vitally important, especially to small businesses. Most small employers do not have the resources to interpret or implement new agency rules," said Bill Bishop, Chairman of the Ohio Chamber's Small Business Council. "This legislation includes many pro-business provisions which aim to ensure that if new rules are created, the firms affected have some added protection from undue negative business impacts."

Components of the legislation include:

- * If an agency improperly establishes a rule through policy, instead of through formal rulemaking as required by Ohio Revised Code Chapter 119, then JCARR will have the authority to call the agency before the committee to explain why it did not file a rule and formally ask them to file.
- * This review process would extend to inaction on rules that state agencies are statutorily required to propose, but which have not been proposed. It is not uncommon for state agencies to never file rules, despite a state law charging the agency with that responsibility.
- * Agencies would periodically be required to follow a process of self-examination to search for policies that should be formalized in rulemaking.
- * A person may petition an agency to write rules if they have been a party to adjudication, an order or civil action. If the agency agrees, they have nine months to write the rules. If not, the agency must provide the petitioner with a public hearing to explain why they would not write rules.

- * If adversely impacted by a policy that did not go through rulemaking, a person may have a cause of action in court and receive court costs and attorney fees.

- * If the Auditor of State discovers policy in lieu of rulemaking during the performance of a state agency audit, then the auditor must flag that discrepancy for review by JCARR.

- * When a rule incorporates another document by reference – for example, a manufacturer's manual as it relates to safety standards – the agency must include a dated citation for that document and may not automatically include future versions of that document without JCARR review.

- * When a rule incorporates another document by reference, but that document is not easily available to the public, then the agency must provide a copy for review at no cost to the requester.

- * Technical changes, such as allowing an agency to avoid the requirement to furnish JCARR with reference documentation if such documentation is readily available without charge. This will lessen paperwork for agencies under existing law, thereby streamlining the JCARR process.

- * Adds a 7th prong to JCARR invalidation criteria that would allow the committee to initiate an invalidation recommendation if a rule imposes a fee that is not reasonable or fairly related to the cost incurred by the agency. For example, if an agency attempted to charge fees that resulted in vastly more revenue than the regulation actually costs to administer.

- * Allows JCARR to review rules between regular 5-year rule review periods if a rule has an unforeseen effect on business. This would require a majority vote of JCARR to initiate.

- * Expands the definition of "adverse impact" on business to include rules that are likely to reduce the revenue of a business or increase the expenses of the business, and would trigger CSIO review.

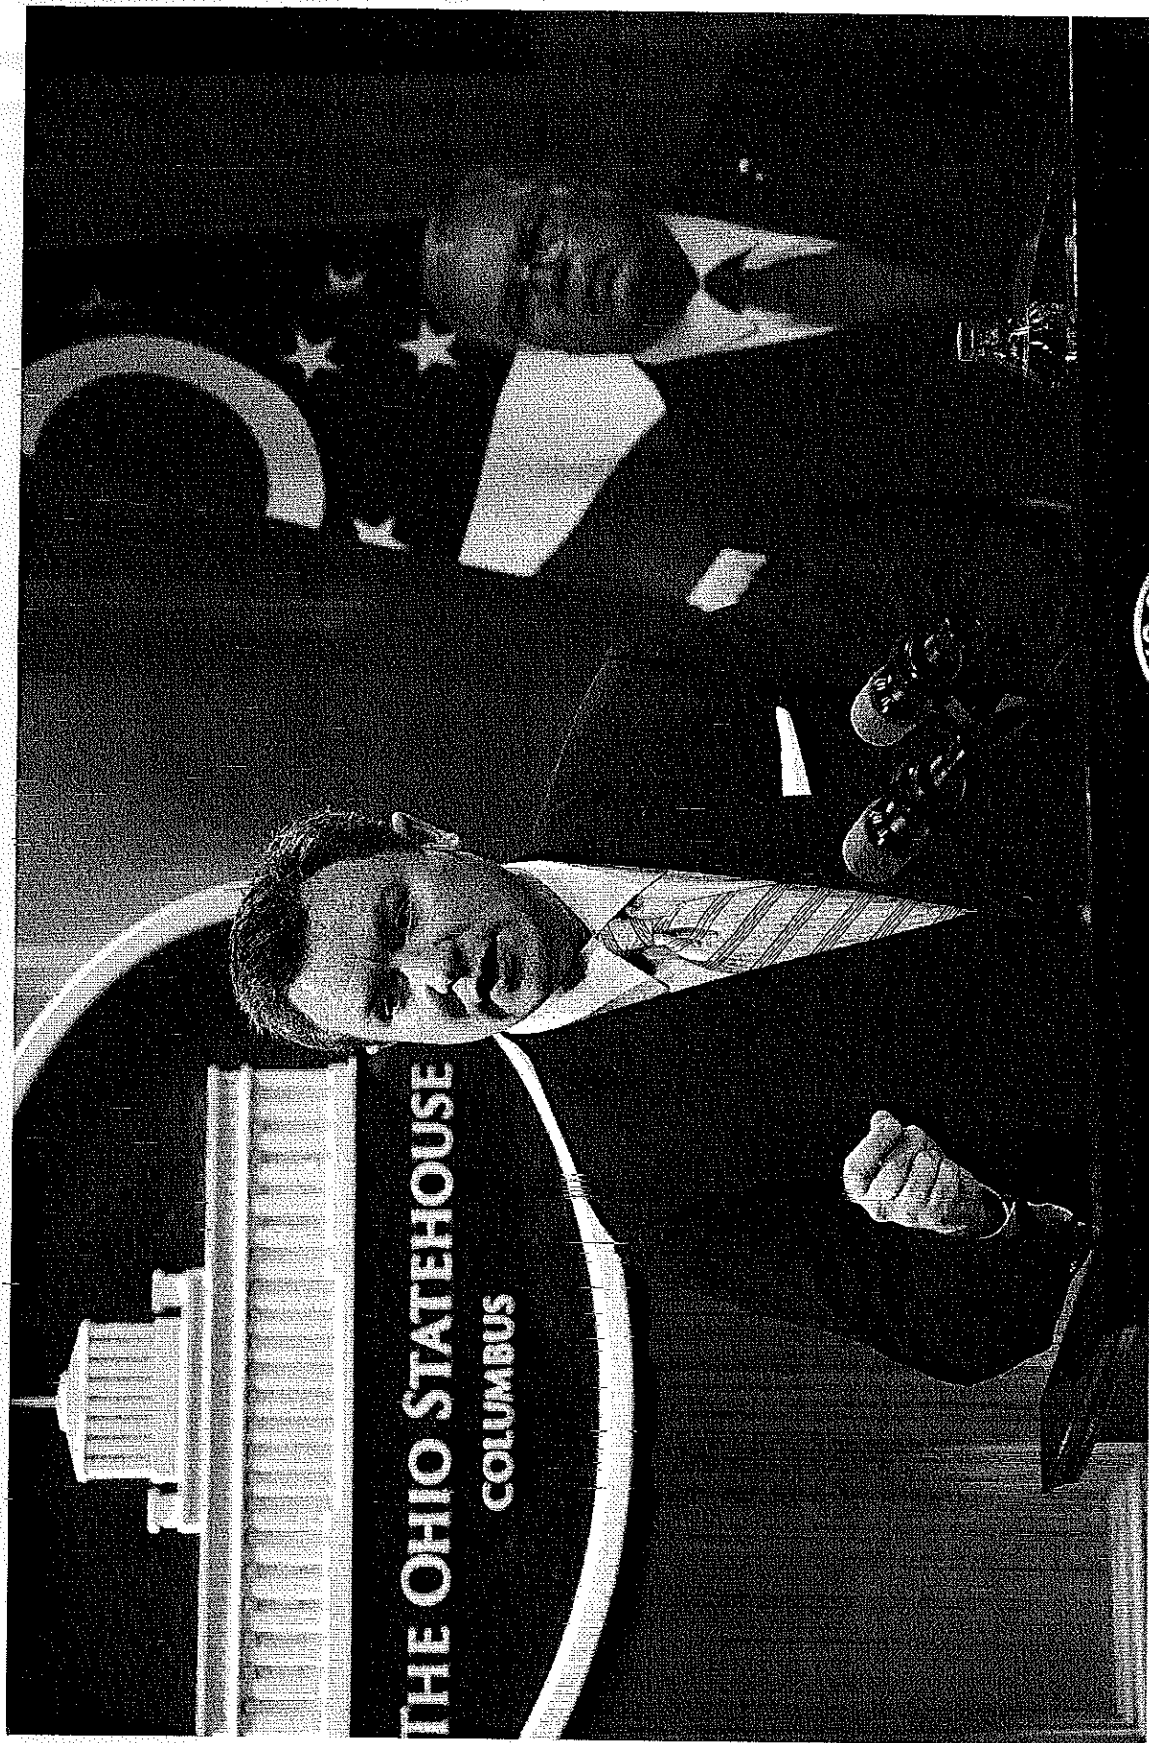

If enacted, this legislation will help ensure that Ohioans attempting to understand regulation will know that the regulations will be codified in the Ohio Administrative Code, eliminating burdensome searches for informal policies that are less public and more difficult to discover. It will also provide them with an opportunity to receive email alerts when such rules are proposed and to speak in a public hearing.

By adding the 7th prong for unreasonable or unfair fees, the legislature will have stronger oversight over various state agency fees to ensure the amounts being charged relate to the purpose of their existence.

Together, the bill will help Ohio businesses better understand, comment upon and influence the drafting of rules being proposed by state regulatory agencies.

MEMORANDUM

TO: All House Members
FROM: Representative Christie Kuhns and Representative Janine Boyd
DATE: February 18, 2016
RE: Request for Co-Sponsorship – Paid Parental Leave

We will soon introduce legislation to create the Family and Medical Leave Insurance Program. Beginning in 2020, the program will provide 12 weeks of family and medical leave benefits, which will permit individuals to care for a family member, bond with a new child, or address their own serious health condition.

Out of 178 countries worldwide, the United States is one of three that does not provide paid leave to new mothers. Only two states, California and New Jersey, offer paid leave to men and women who provide care. The federal Family Medical Leave Act provides 12 weeks of leave for family and medical reasons. This time is unpaid and employers with fewer than 50 employees are exempt, which eliminates a large segment of workers. Ohio should lead on the issue of paid leave to grow our economy and allow working people to put family first.

The program will be under the purview of the Department of Job and Family Services. An individual would receive leave insurance benefits for: a health condition which makes him/her unable to perform their job duties; caring for a new child during after birth, adoption, or foster care placement; caring for a child, parent, or spouse who has a serious health condition; or the individual is taking any other leave as authorized by the federal Family and Medical Leave Act. In order to be eligible for program benefits, an individual must file a claim with ODJFS; must have worked at least 680 hours during the base period; premiums have been withheld and remitted for at least one year; and the leave must be for the above-mentioned purposes.

Once established, program benefits will be paid by assessing premiums on employees. Employers will be required to deduct and withhold premiums from employee's wages. However, an employer may opt to pay the contributions on behalf of employees.

An employee who is covered by an employer policy or collective bargaining agreement that provides the employee with greater leave than that provided by the Family and Medical Leave Act may elect not to participate in the Program in accordance with rules adopted by the Director. An employee who elects to opt out of participating in the Program is not liable for any premium or contribution that would otherwise be due under the Program.

Working people in Ohio should not have to worry about losing their job or falling behind financially just to take care of a sick child or relative; address their own serious health condition; or care for and bond with their newborn child. Ohio cities like Dayton and Cincinnati are leading on leave. By allowing working people to put their family first, we can truly make Ohio a better place to live, work, and raise a family.

Good evening:

1. #4 - Auditor of State - Does this have any purchase of spare computers for the UAN system? What happens if another entity decides to go with the UAN system? This only replaces what is out there now?
2. #54 - Ohio Ethics Commission - What changes were seen in the collective bargaining agreement that was not anticipated to include in the budget? Which positions received increases and what was the percentage increase for those positions?
3. #58 - Ohio Department of Health - Your payroll increased for this new Krabbe Disease testing by how many? Are they new employees or just increased hours?
4. #59 - Ohio Department of Job & Family Services - Which staff will be doing the outreach? How will parents that are the target of outreach be identified?

5. #65 - Department of Developmental Disabilities - Which specific staff receive training under this course and can you elaborate on the nature of the increased need to expand the training?
6. #69 - Department of Natural Resources - What is the duration of the amended contract? What is covered under the category of other reimbursables?
7. #72 - Department of Natural Resources - What is the contingency amount for?
8. #81 - Public Defender Commission - What is the amount of the fee typically charged by the Commission for attendance? How many hours of CLE seminars will this appropriation cover?
9. #82 - Department of Public Safety - Is passage of a simulator program a necessary component of passage of the driver examination now under Ohio law?
10. #85 - Rehabilitation and Correction - What is meant by "type ready"?
11. #92 - Department of Transportation - I don't understand why was this not competitively bid?

This should do me this time. See you tomorrow!!

Thanks,

Margaret Ann Ruhl

Dear Mr. Collier:

Rep. Ruhl, who sits on Controlling Board, has a question on #4, EXP0100472 -17 (The Auditor of State's Office respectfully requests Controlling Board approval to increase appropriation in the amount of $3,134,000 in fund 6750, ALI 070605 (Uniform Accounting Network), in FY17, to replace computer hardware for the Uniform Accounting Network clients. There are currently 1,935 local governmental entities that use UAN. $3,134,000 is inclusive of computer hardware, software, installation, data security, and antivirus software.)

She asked: "Does this have any purchase of spare computers for the UAN system? What happens if another entity decides to go with the UAN system? This only replaces what is out there now?"

I would respectfully ask if you could follow up directly with Brianna Miller, Rep. Ruhl's legislative aide (614) 466-1431 or [Brianna.Miller@ohiohouse.gov], who is copied on this email as well, by email or by phone in advance of the meeting on Monday, Dec. 5, 2016 at 1:30PM.
